BioPed Footcare Partners with GoodLife Fitness to Support Active Living

BioPed Footcare, Canada's leading provider of lower limb and foot care services, is pleased to announce a new partnership with GoodLife Fitness, bringing together two proudly Canadian organizations committed to helping Canadians stay active, healthy, and moving with confidence.

The partnership reflects a shared commitment to community wellness, injury prevention, and supporting individuals in achieving their health and fitness goals. "At BioPed, we strategically partner with organizations that align with our core values of community wellness, active living, and empowering people to do more of what they love," said Lori Pearson, Director of Partner Relations. "These are principles we proudly share with GoodLife Fitness, making this partnership a natural fit."

Whether individuals are pursuing fitness goals, maintaining an active lifestyle, or addressing foot and lower limb concerns, BioPed's clinical teams of Canadian Certified Pedorthists, Chiropodists, and Advanced Foot Care Nurses are dedicated to helping people move comfortably and confidently through personalized assessments, medical foot care, custom orthotics, compression therapy, footwear recommendations, and ongoing support.

GoodLife Fitness has long been recognized for its commitment to creating healthier communities through fitness, education, and member engagement. Together, BioPed and GoodLife Fitness aim to provide individuals with access to trusted expertise and support that promotes lifelong mobility, wellness, and active living. "We are proud to partner with GoodLife Fitness, an organization that shares our commitment to helping Canadians lead active, healthy lives," said Peter Scully, CEO of BioPed Franchising Inc. "Mobility plays a critical role in overall health and well-being. By combining GoodLife's commitment to fitness with BioPed's expertise in lower limb health, we can help members and employees move with greater comfort, confidence, and support so they can continue doing the activities they love."

To learn more about the partnership and available member benefits, visit the GoodLife Fitness Rewards platform or contact your local BioPed clinic.
